Pamela's life was a testament to the power of positivity and the strength of the human spirit. Pamela's essence was woven into the fabric of her family, who were the epicenter of her world. She leaves behind a legacy of love with her devoted husband, Michael Harris of Tullahoma, TN, who stood beside her as a testament to enduring partnership.

Her sons, Sean and Nicholas Harris, will carry forward her nurturing spirit, while her granddaughter, Josie Kay Harris, will grow up inspired by her grandmother's wisdom and warmth. Obituary

Mrs. Pamela Harris

AUG 14, 1963 - OCT 28, 2025

Harris, and her cousins, Todd and Joseph Lynn Ford, will recount tales of her kindness and grace for years to come.

Pamela's sister-in-law, Kimberly Taylor, was blessed to know her loving heart. Though her father, W.B. Kerley, preceded her in death, the values he instilled in Pamela shone brightly through her actions and will continue to resonate within the family. She was also preceded in death by her grandparents, Jack and Clara Brown, Bob and Opal Kerley.

Pamela's Christian faith was the cornerstone of her existence. It guided her through life's trials and triumphs, and she embodied the essence of a faith-filled life. Those who knew Pamela were touched by her unwavering belief in the goodness of people and the power of prayer.

Her spirit was a reflection of her belief, casting a light that would lead others through their darkest times. To speak of Pamela is to speak of a soul that lived for others. Her love was a sanctuary for those who knew her, a place of comfort and peace.

Her selflessness knew no bounds; she gave freely, expecting nothing in return, and her impact on the world was as profound as it was silent. Her life was not about accolades or recognition, but about the quiet, consistent acts of kindness that define true character.

Pamela's story is not one of sorrow but of celebration. She walked this earth as a motivational force, inspiring those around her to embrace life's challenges with courage and to meet each day with a heart full of gratitude.

Her legacy is not merely etched in stone but carried in the hearts of those she loved—a living legacy of love, joy, and faith. As we honor the remarkable life of Mrs. Pamela Kerley Harris, let us carry her memory forward with the same zest for life and love for others that she exemplified.

Let her life be a reminder that we all have the capacity to light up the world in our unique way. Pamela's journey on earth may have concluded, but her spirit soars, urging us to live fully, love deeply, and remain steadfast in faith.

Radney Funeral Home is honored to serve the family of Pamela K. Harris.

Pam was one of the greatest people I've ever had the pleasure of knowing. Her joy and warmth were impossible to ignore. So many bad days turned into good ones because we ran into each other in the hallway or stopped by the other's office. She would pop in and say "you know what I'm gonna ask... you have anything chocolate? It's one of those days". We could talk for hours about anything and everything and we did - be it marriage, family, religion, trauma or our mutual love of fast food, little Debbie cakes, and Grey's Anatomy. She gave the best advice and the best hugs. On one of my last days working in Moore County, I spent several hours talking with her and I will cherish that memory more than I could ever say. She never hesitated to tell me that she was proud of me and would often say "It's so cool that I got to be your teacher and now I get to work with you. Isn't that the neatest thing?" And yeah, it was. Because being around her was a privilege. I was so lucky to know her for as long as I did and in so many different seasons of my life. I would not be the person I am today without her and I mean that sincerely from the bottom of my heart. Pam, I love you so much and you will be missed.

I am sorry to hear about Pam, but I know heaven is celebrating a sweet angel and I know Mr. Willie Bob was right there with Jesus when she entered Heaven's Gates. What a celebration! Rest in peace Pam. We will see you again. Praying for her family. Nancy D. Crew

My mom had her for a class. I met her through my mom. Her, my mom, my aunt and I worked on the non profit organization FLOWERS MINISTRY together. She had such passion and devotion. Donating jackets at the mall, helping those in difficult situations, and guiding unemployed persons to work. This is such a loss for the world. Beautiful spirited people like Mrs. Pam- are the reason for days of sunshine. My heart is broken at this news, but grateful for the opportunity to know her and help her shine while I had that ability. She will greatly be missed. Love you Mrs. Pam! She was always an angel even before she got there to receive her wings!

Pam Harris was the kind of person that made anyone feel welcome and was always willing to jump in the trenches alongside you in life's struggles. I will never forget finding out that we had paperwork suddenly needed the following day. She came to my office, and we got it completed in a couple of hours. However, we kept having to remind ourselves to stay focused and not get off track, as we also had a bad habit of just falling into conversations about life, faith, and her kids. Beyond this, there are too many stories to recount. She was by far the most caring and kind person I have worked alongside, and I will miss her dearly everytime I step into a classroom or want to have someone to discuss life with.

Pam once told me that during a concert at Motlow, she heard the song Landslide and began to cry at the line, 'Can I handle the seasons of my life?' She could — and she did — with grace, humor, and a heart that steadied everyone around her. In our last meeting, she smiled and said, 'You're an amazing asset to the college. I don't really have anything you need to improve upon... so what do you think you should improve?' That was Pam — equal parts mentor, mirror, and light. I have only known her a few short years but I loved her deeply. She has impacted my life, my teaching and my world with her infectious kindness, unconditional love and unwavering support. I only wish I could have more time which is such a silly thing to say because there would never be enough time.
