Mavis was a wonderful neighbor and friend while she lived in Birmingham. Though her children were much closer to my age, there was no "age barrier," as Mavis related well across generations. We enjoyed riding together to our senior adult choir rehearsals and the Christian fellowship we shared enroute. I'll always remember her as a positive example and surrogate mother, since my mother had passed in 1995. I'll also remember her fondly for the homemade chicken salad she brought to my doorstep. My love and prayers for Charlotte, Tommy, Bill, Kimeron, and your families. Frances King Abrams
